Dear 7th Grade Student and Family:

Congratulations on receiving this letter! A teacher or administrator at your school feels confident that you meet the criteria required to apply for an exciting high school scholarship opportunity.

The Caroline D. Bradley Scholarship, administered by the Institute for Educational Advancement (IEA), identifies exceptionally able 7th grade students who have demonstrated academic and personal excellence and awards them with a four year high school scholarship to a school where they can best discover their intellectual and personal potential.

In 2016, new Caroline D. Bradley Scholars will be identified and will receive a scholarship covering the cost of tuition at a four-year high school.

Through the scholarship you will receive assistance in identifying the high school that best meets your academic and personal needs, guidance during the application process and day student tuition for four years. I encourage you to discuss the scholarship with your parents and pursue this unique, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.
