

Dear 7th Grade Student & Family:

Congratulations on receiving this letter! A teacher or administrator at your school feels confident that you meet the criteria required to apply for an exciting high school scholarship opportunity.

The Caroline D. Bradley Scholarship, administered by the Institute for Educational Advancement (IEA), identifies exceptionally gifted 7th grade students who exhibit advanced intellectual talent and have the ability to demonstrate academic and personal excellence. Through a highly selective application process, these exceptional students are granted a high school scholarship to a school where they can best actualize their intellectual and personal potential.

In 2018, up to 30 new Caroline D. Bradley Scholars will be identified and receive a high school scholarship covering the cost of tuition at any four-year high school or program of their choosing.

Through the CDB Scholarship, students receive guidance in identifying the best fit high school, assistance during the application and interview process, and day student tuition for four years, as well as the opportunity to become a lifelong member of the CDB community – a peer network of other motivated, like-minded individuals. I encourage you to discuss the Scholarship with your parents and pursue this unique, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.
